Please accept Edinboro University's congratulations on the acceptance of your artwork for the show, "An Artistic Discovery 2000," sponsored by Congressman Phil English from April 20, 2000 to April 30, 2000 on the campus of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. The University extends its best wishes and hospitality to you.

Edinboro University is unable to provide loss insurance protection for your artwork. Because of this, you are asked to read the following statement carefully and sign it. Also, your parents or legal guardian are asked to do likewise.

Because of our inability to purchase insurance to cover the loss of your artwork, you should consider the possibility of personally obtaining such insurance.

The undersigned hereby, in consideration of the opportunity to display artwork on the campus of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, release the University, and its employees, and its agents from any and all liability for damage, loss, or misappropriation of the art entry in the show, "An Artistic Discovery 2000," without regard to the cause of the damage, loss, or misappropriation.
